Granola

Granola produced at Funkisfood can be tailored to different taste and nutritional needs. Our flexible production makes it possible to vary grain types, sweeteners, fats and ingredients such as nuts, seeds and dried fruit. This customisation ensures that you can launch a granola that precisely reflects your brand and your target group's expectations.

- Flexible production tailored to your brand
- Vary grains, sweeteners and fats
- Add nuts, seeds or dried fruit
- Tailor-made taste and nutrition
- Aimed at your target group's needs

Muesli

Funkisfood offers flexible production of muesli, where the composition can be adapted to your wishes, your customers' needs and market requirements. We work with a wide selection of base ingredients such as oats, nuts and seeds, which can be combined into a muesli based on your wishes for nutritional profile, allergens, taste or texture.

- Flexible recipes and customisation
- Wide selection of ingredients
- Focus on nutritional profile and allergens
- Variation in taste and texture
- Private-label solutions for your market

Porridge

Funkisfood offers flexible production of porridge, where the recipe can be adapted to your brand's needs and your target group's wishes. We work with different grain types and ingredients, so the compositions can be varied in taste, consistency, nutritional profile and allergens. This way, we can deliver everything from classic porridge blends to innovative convenience solutions.

- Flexible production tailored to your brand
- Variation in grain, taste and consistency
- Focus on nutritional profile and allergens
- From classic recipes to convenience solutions

Top Cups

We produce Top Cups that are ready to be labelled with your brand. Our flexible production makes it possible to adjust portion sizes, ingredients and flavour profiles, so the product matches your brand's needs and what customers demand.

We can work with a wide selection of ingredients – including muesli, granola or porridge – and adapt the nutritional profile, allergens and texture to your wishes. With us, Top Cups can be produced both organic and conventional, and our certified production setup ensures top quality and food safety.

- Top Cups tailored to your brand
- Variation in content, taste and consistency
- Specially designed nutritional profile

Dessert crumb

Funkisfood produces dessert crumb, designed specifically for baked goods, desserts and other sweet applications. Our flexible production makes it possible to adjust the recipe to your brand's needs – from variation in ingredients and flavour to coarseness and functional properties.

We offer both organic and conventional solutions, so you can choose what suits your end product best. Our production ensures a stable quality that makes the dessert crumb well suited to both classic recipes and innovative, creative food solutions.

- Flexible variants for many applications
- Organic and conventional solutions
- Variation in ingredients, coarseness and flavour
- Stable quality for both classic and innovative use

Breadcrumbs

Funkisfood also manufactures breadcrumbs that ensure perfect crispness and a golden result for frying, breading and gratinating. Our breadcrumbs can be adapted to your brand's needs with variation in ingredients, coarseness, flavour and functional properties, so they suit everything from classic breading to more advanced applications.

We offer both organic and conventional solutions, and our production setup ensures stable quality, so the breading is always even and crisp – ready for retail, foodservice and specialty products.

- Suitable for retail and foodservice
- Suitable for specialty production
- Organic and conventional options
- Stable quality for both classic and innovative use
- Variation in functional properties, coarseness and consistency

Your private label partner in Danish-produced quality

At Funkisfood, we know how important it is to be able to offer high-quality food – under your own brand. That is why we specialise in private label production of granola, muesli, porridge and breadcrumbs, where we can tailor production solutions that fit your brand's needs exactly.
